IOU'S Plagiarism Policy & Ethical AI Usage

All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the universe and peace and blessing be upon the last messenger Muhammad and all those who follow his path with righteousness until the Last Day.

Please read and understand this policy in detail before attempting any assignments at IOU.

Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) said, "He who deceives us is not one of us." (Sahih Muslim)

Definition of Plagiarism:

A common form of deception in studies is plagiarism. Plagiarism is sometimes misunderstood when referring to copying alone; however, plagiarism is much deeper than just copying. It includes quoting without proper references, collaboration, and stealing other people's ideas while passing them off as one's own. Plagiarism is the "failure to acknowledge the ideas or writing of another" or "presentation of the ideas or writing of another as one's own" and should be read to cover intentional and unintentional failure to acknowledge the ideas of others. In this context, "others" means any other person, including a student, academic, professional, published author or other resource such as the Internet. The International Open University believes that failing to acknowledge the use of the ideas of others constitutes an important breach of the institution's Islamic and academic values and conventions.

Definition of Ethical AI Usage

Ethical AI Usage refers to the responsible and transparent use of artificial intelligence tools (such as ChatGPT, Grammarly, paraphrasing tools, or AI research assistants) to support academic work—not to replace or falsify it.

Students may use AI tools for brainstorming, language enhancement, or initial research, but the final work must reflect the student's own understanding, application to context, analysis, and critical thinking.

IOU Stance on Plagiarism & AI Usage

The International Open University will not tolerate plagiarism and unethical AI use in any form, and any student caught plagiarizing or engaging in Unethical AI use will be penalized. Depending on the severity of the transgression of plagiarism and/or unethical AI usage, the penalty could range from a reduction of marks to rejection of marks to rejecting the paper itself.

With respect to the assignments, the following constitutes plagiarism:

- 1) Copying someone else's assignment
- 2) Collaboration and working together on an assignment
- 3) Copying and pasting entire articles on the internet
- 4) Quoting someone else's work without referencing the author
- 5) Using someone else's ideas or words without referencing them

To avoid plagiarism, be sure to:

- Use quotation marks around a quote and cite the source.

- Reference all quotations and citations
- Reword/paraphrase. Don't write word for word what you have read. First, take notes in your own words, then write your assignment from your notes (not the text).

For more information on how to avoid plagiarism and how to properly cite a source, visit the following websites:

You may also test your understanding of plagiarism by using this link:

<https://ilrb.cf.ac.uk/plagiarism/tutorial/whatis1.html>

Unethical AI Usage Examples:

1. Submitting assignments fully written by AI without critical review or personal input.
2. Using AI tools to rewrite (paraphrase) entire sections without understanding the content.
3. Copying AI-generated research summaries, literature reviews, or reflections without acknowledging AI assistance.
4. Relying on AI for the complete structure, analysis, and content of an assignment.

To Use AI Ethically:

- Use AI for supportive purposes only (e.g., clarifying concepts, improving grammar).
- Critically review and modify AI-generated content to reflect your own understanding.
- Clearly declare any AI assistance you have used, where appropriate.
- Use AI responsibly to enhance your learning, not to bypass it.

Similarity Indicator

IOU reserves the right to submit all academic assignments to a plagiarism checker to produce similarity ratings for each assignment and AI-content detectors to produce similarity and AI-generated content ratings for each assignment. The similarity indicator provides a rating of how similar the text in the assignment is to resources available on the Internet while the AI-content check assesses the extent to which AI tools were used to generate the work.

In line with universal academic writing practices, IOU prefers that text be paraphrased in the student's words and not quoted directly, with the original author of the knowledge being duly cited and referenced. Any use of AI tools must also be transparently acknowledged, and students are reminded that over-reliance on AI-generated content may undermine academic integrity and the development of essential academic skills.

As University-wide norm, IOU recommends that the similarity indicator does not exceed 20%.

Result of Plagiarism & Unethical AI Usage

Assignments a rating higher than or equal to 50% will be automatically rejected and validated for plagiarism and unethical AI usage through a manual check by the tutorial assistant or relevant academic. The student will be given a grade of 0 and there will be no second chances for submitting the assignment.

Any detected misuse of AI tools, including unacknowledged AI-generated content or over-reliance that compromises academic integrity, will be treated with the same seriousness as traditional plagiarism. The tutorial assistant or relevant academic will use the combined similarity and AI-content ratings, along with academic judgment, to determine the final grade of the submission

The Tutorial Assistant or relevant academic will use the similarity rating to determine the final grade of the submission.

Remember that we are Muslims studying Allah's religion, and so plagiarizing in Islamic Studies is a sin and can rob your studies of reward.

May Allah bless you all and success with your coursework. Ameen.

IOU Admin.
